Reflexive And Intensive Pronouns Middle School

reflexive and intensive pronouns middle school serve as essential components of English grammar that help students improve their writing, speaking, and understanding of sentence structure. Understanding these pronouns is crucial for middle school students because they often encounter them in various contexts, from classroom exercises to literature analysis. Mastering reflexive and intensive pronouns not only enhances grammatical accuracy but also enables students to communicate more clearly and effectively.

In this comprehensive guide, we will explore the definitions, differences, usage rules, common examples, and tips for mastering reflexive and intensive pronouns specifically tailored for middle school learners. By the end of this article, students will have a solid understanding of these pronouns and how to use them confidently in their writing and speech.

What Are Reflexive and Intensive Pronouns?

Definition of Reflexive Pronouns

Reflexive pronouns are pronouns that refer back to the subject of the sentence. They are used when the subject and the object of a sentence are the same person or thing. Reflexive pronouns are necessary to complete the meaning of certain sentences and indicate that the action is performed on oneself.

The reflexive pronouns are:

- myself
- yourself
- himself
- herself
- itself
- ourselves
- yourselves
- themselves

Definition of Intensive Pronouns

Intensive pronouns emphasize a noun or pronoun already mentioned in the sentence. They are used to add emphasis or highlight the subject. Unlike reflexive pronouns, intensive pronouns are not essential to the sentence's meaning?they simply serve to stress the subject.

The intensive pronouns are the same as reflexive pronouns:

- myself
- yourself
- himself
- herself
- itself
- ourselves
- yourselves
- themselves

Differences Between Reflexive and Intensive Pronouns

While reflexive and intensive pronouns share the same forms, their functions differ significantly:

- Reflexive Pronouns: Necessary for the sentence to make sense; they indicate that the subject and the object are the same.
- Intensive Pronouns: Used for emphasis; they can be removed without changing the core meaning of the sentence.

Example of Reflexive Pronouns:

- She made herself a sandwich. (Here, "herself" shows that she did the action to herself.)

- They injured themselves during the game.

Example of Intensive Pronouns:

- The president herself approved the new policy. (Here, "herself" emphasizes the president's direct involvement.)
- I cooked dinner myself.

Rules for Using Reflexive Pronouns in Middle School

Understanding how and when to use reflexive pronouns is vital for grammatical correctness.

1. Use reflexive pronouns when the subject and the object are the same person or thing

- Correct: She taught herself to play the piano.
- Incorrect: She taught herself to play the piano. (if "herself" is not referring back to the subject)

2. Reflexive pronouns are essential in sentences where the action is performed and received by the same person or thing

- Example: I hurt myself while cleaning.

3. Do not use reflexive pronouns when the subject and object are different people or things

- Correct: He gave the book to Sarah.
- Incorrect: He gave himself the book. (unless he is both giving and receiving the book)

4. Reflexive pronouns are used after certain verbs that are typically reflexive, such as "pride oneself," "avail oneself," or "absent oneself."

- Example: She prides herself on her work.

Rules for Using Intensive Pronouns in Middle School

Intensive pronouns are used to emphasize a noun or pronoun already mentioned. Here are the key rules:

1. Place the intensive pronoun immediately after the noun or pronoun it emphasizes

- Correct: The students themselves completed the project.
- Incorrect: The students completed the project themselves.

2. Use intensive pronouns only when emphasizing the subject

- Example: The mayor herself attended the meeting. (emphasizes the mayor's involvement)
- Not: The mayor attended the meeting herself. (this is acceptable but less emphatic)

3. Do not overuse intensive pronouns in sentences

- Excessive use can make sentences awkward or redundant.

Examples of Reflexive and Intensive Pronouns in Sentences

Reflexive Pronouns:

- I prepared myself for the exam.
- She looked at herself in the mirror.
- The children enjoyed themselves at the park.
- We treated ourselves to ice cream after school.
- They blamed themselves for the mistake.

Intensive Pronouns:

- The CEO herself approved the new strategy.
- I will do the project myself.
- The students themselves organized the event.
- The artist herself designed the mural.
- You should clean the room yourself.

Common Mistakes to Avoid

To become proficient with reflexive and intensive pronouns, students should watch out for common errors:

- Using reflexive pronouns without necessity

- Incorrect: He saw himself in the reflection. (if not emphasizing or referring back correctly)

- Confusing reflexive and intensive pronouns

- Incorrect: The teacher herself graded the exams. (correct as an emphasis, but if not emphasizing, better to omit "herself")

- Using reflexive pronouns as subject

- Incorrect: Myself went to the store. (should be "I went to the store.")

- Omitting necessary reflexive pronouns in sentences where they are needed

- Incorrect: She injured her arm. (correct, but if emphasizing, "She injured herself.")

Tips for Middle School Students to Master Reflexive and Intensive Pronouns

- Practice with sentences: Write sentences using each reflexive and intensive pronoun.
- Identify in reading: Highlight reflexive and intensive pronouns in books or articles.
- Use diagrams: Draw sentence diagrams to visualize the relationship between subjects and objects.
- Ask questions: Does the sentence need a pronoun that refers back to the subject? Use reflexive pronouns.
- Emphasize carefully: Use intensive pronouns to add emphasis without overdoing it.

Summary and Key Takeaways

- Reflexive pronouns reflect back to the subject and are necessary for clarity and correctness.
- Intensive pronouns emphasize a noun or pronoun and are used for emphasis.
- Both types share the same forms but serve different grammatical purposes.
- Proper usage involves understanding sentence structure and the intent of the sentence.
- Practice is essential for mastering their correct application.

Conclusion

Understanding reflexive and intensive pronouns is a fundamental part of middle school grammar. By recognizing their differences, rules, and correct usage, students can improve their sentence construction and overall writing skills. Remember, reflexive pronouns are about reflecting actions back to the doer, while intensive pronouns are about emphasizing the subject. With consistent practice and attention to detail, middle school students can confidently incorporate these pronouns into their everyday communication, making their language more precise and expressive.

Reflexive and Intensive Pronouns for Middle School: A Complete Guide

Understanding language is like unlocking a secret code ? and when it comes to reflexive and intensive pronouns, knowing how to use them correctly can make your writing clearer and more powerful. The Basics of Reflexive Pronouns

Reflexive pronouns are words like myself, yourself, himself, herself, itself, ourselves, yourselves, and themselves. They always refer back to a noun or pronoun earlier in the sentence and are necessary when the action of the verb is performed by the subject on itself.

Examples of reflexive pronouns in sentences:

- I taught myself how to play the guitar.
- She hurt herself while doing gymnastics.
- The cat cleaned itself after eating.

Key points about reflexive pronouns:

- They are used when the subject and the object are the same person or thing.
- They are essential for the sentence to make sense in many cases.
- They often appear after verbs like buy, enjoy, prepare, etc., when the action is directed back to the subject.

The Role of Intensive Pronouns

Intensive pronouns are similar in form to reflexive pronouns but serve a different purpose: emphasizing the subject. They are used to add emphasis and are not necessary for the sentence to be grammatically correct.

Examples of intensive pronouns in sentences:

- I myself completed the project.
- The mayor herself announced the new policy.
- They themselves built the treehouse.

Key points about intensive pronouns:

- They are used to emphasize the subject.
- They are not essential to the sentence ? removing them usually doesn?t change the meaning.
- They are placed immediately after the noun or pronoun they emphasize.

How to Distinguish Between Reflexive and Intensive Pronouns

While reflexive and intensive pronouns look alike, their functions are quite different. Here are some tips to tell them apart:

| Feature | Reflexive Pronouns | Intensive Pronouns |

|---|---|---|

| Function | Reflects the action back on the subject | Adds emphasis to the subject |

| Necessary in sentence? | Usually yes (if reflexive) | Usually no (if intensive) |

| Placement | Usually after the verb or as the object | Immediately after the noun/pronoun being emphasized |

| Example | She hurt herself. | The president herself attended the meeting. |

Common Mistakes to Avoid

Even native speakers sometimes confuse these pronouns. Here are some common errors and how to avoid them:

- Using reflexive pronouns when not needed:

- Incorrect: I saw myself in the mirror. (unless you are talking about seeing your reflection)
- Correct: I saw myself in the mirror. (if you mean you saw your reflection, it's correct)

- Using intensive pronouns in place of reflexive pronouns:

- Incorrect: Please tell John himself about the meeting. (This emphasizes John unnecessarily)
- Correct: Please tell John about the meeting. (no need for emphasis)

- Forgetting to include the reflexive pronoun when needed:

- Incorrect: She hurt himself during the race. (should be she hurt herself)
- Correct: She hurt herself during the race.

Practice Exercises

- Fill in the blank with the correct reflexive or intensive pronoun:

- I cooked dinner _____.
- The students _____ prepared for the test.
- The mayor _____ made the speech.
- She hurt _____ while skateboarding.
- We _____ decided to go to the park.

- Choose whether the sentence needs a reflexive or intensive pronoun:

- The teacher (herself / herself) explained the lesson thoroughly.
- I bought _____ a new book.
- The team (itself / itself) won the championship.
- Please look at _____ in the mirror.
- They (themselves / themselves) completed the project on time.

Tips for Using Reflexive and Intensive Pronouns

- Remember that reflexive pronouns are necessary when the subject performs an action on itself.
- Use intensive pronouns to add emphasis, but never overuse them ? they?re meant for emphasis, not regular sentence structure.
- Place intensive pronouns immediately after the noun or pronoun they emphasize.
- Never use reflexive or intensive pronouns where a simple noun or pronoun will do. For example, don?t say: John hurt himself himself. It should be just John hurt himself.

Summary: Key Takeaways
